The Whole Bible Devotional • Small Group Study Guide

Introduction

I looked up. The trail's rocky incline towered. A giant staircase of car-sized boulders lay before me. No human legs could stretch from one boulder to the next. Attempting upward progress involved hugging rocks and clinging to small footholds.

The climb felt impossible.

Have you ever tackled an obstacle you felt was difficult? Maybe even beyond your reach?

When we look back over our lives, most of us can recall daunting or dangerous experiences. Sometimes we succeeded. Sometimes we failed.

Often, we learn more from our failures than our successes. One example from my life was reading through the Bible from beginning to end.

Around age sixteen, I set out to read the Bible cover to cover.

There were days I didn't find (or make) the time. However, I picked up where I left off the next day and kept trudging through. After persevering a little over a year, I achieved my goal. I read through the whole Bible!

I did not understand everything I read. I stuttered over big words the best I could and continued reading. Although I could not comprehend every detail, my general knowledge of the Bible improved. More importantly, my connection with Jesus grew stronger.

Fast forward to my years as a mom. When my kids reached their teen years, I wanted to help them read through the Bible as I did at their age. I suggested a Bible reading plan, and the kids' eyes sparkled. The challenge moved our hearts, and we plunged in.

Sadly, after a few starts and stops, we sputtered, faltered, and eventually gave up.

Disappointment wrapped around me like a cold blanket. I felt like I had failed my kids, myself, and my God.

However, God had more in store for me. The Whole Bible Devotional sprang from that failure.

My goal in writing The Whole Bible Devotional is to provide readers in today's fast-paced life with a greater understanding of the whole Bible in an accessible way. Further, many people have read the Bible from beginning to end, but still don't understand how the books fit together.

Therefore, The Whole Bible Devotional offers three components to help readers understand the Bible as a whole:

- A non-academic overview of the Bible to give readers a bird's-eye-view of the Bible's overarching theme—Jesus.
- Excerpts from every book of the Bible so readers can encounter important elements of God's Word from beginning to end.
- Scripture-based prayers to help readers connect with God personally while reading the Bible.

This Small Group Study Guide complements The Whole Bible Devotional and equips small group leaders to use the book with church groups, home groups, Sunday School classes, online groups, or to enhance personal study.

Discussions with others are key. When we share our thoughts and experiences with others, the text comes alive and our understanding expands. This Small Group Study Guide will help you and your small group maximize and apply the concepts in The Whole Bible Devotional.

Have you ever wanted to understand the Bible as a whole? Want to help others understand the Bible better or see how Jesus is the overarching theme throughout?

I am excited for you to discover how God can use The Whole Bible Devotional and the companion Small Group Study Guide to deepen your group's spiritual life. The Whole Bible Devotional and Study Guide will enrich your understanding of Christ and His Word. And ultimately, draw you ever closer to our Savior!

12-Week Session Outline

The Whole Bible Devotional is best read daily. Reading the three introductory chapters the first week, followed by one reading from each of the 66 books of the Bible (with one day a week for catch-up and/or the group session), makes for a 12-week study series.

Beginning with a simple Bible overview, The Whole Bible Devotional lays a foundation for the whole biblical narrative, followed by 66 daily Scripture readings and prayers.

The following is a sample 12-week reading plan and discussion outline for small groups. Small group leaders can adjust this timeline to suit their purposes.

Small group leaders should ask participants to complete the daily readings for each week individually before the meeting. This will allow participants to understand and discuss the questions thoughtfully when gathering as a group.

Please note—this Small Group Study Guide's design allows flexibility to meet your group's needs. Most small groups will not have time to answer every question. So, select the questions most meaningful or applicable to your group. Leaders can encourage participants to reflect individually on questions not discussed as a group.

In addition, if you or your group have a favorite verse or story from a particular book of the Bible, please feel free to read and discuss that instead of the provided Scripture and discussion questions.

May God use The Whole Bible Devotional and Small Group Study Guide to inspire your hunger for God and His Word. May the Holy Spirit lead you and your group to delight in God's Word as you seek to know and love Jesus more!

Day 9 – 1 Samuel

- A. When the Lord told the prophet Samuel to anoint the next king of Israel, the Lord rejected David's brothers but chose David instead (1 Samuel 16:1–7), because man looks on the outward appearance, but the Lord looks on the heart. How is it a comfort to know the Lord looks at our hearts, not our outward appearance? How might this also cause discomfort?
- B. What does God see in your heart?

When the people saw God's power, they worshiped Him (1 Kings 18:16–29). Can you think of a time you witnessed God's power? How did you respond?

The text stated King Josiah got rid of "mediums and spiritists, the household gods, the idols and all other detestable things," so he could follow the Lord with all his heart, soul, and strength. Where do you see mediums and spiritists accepted in our culture? What are things you and I could remove from our lives to follow the Lord more closely?

Day 13 – 1 Chronicles

- A. When God first instructed Moses to build a Tabernacle (or tent of meeting), it was a movable tent for worship (Exod. 25:8, Exod. 26). When David became king of Israel, he wanted to build a permanent structure for God's temple, where His presence dwelt and the people could draw near Him. From our reading in 1 Chronicles 17:9–12, how did God respond to David's desire?
- B. How did Jesus fulfill God's prophecy spoken in the passage we read (Rev. 21:3)?

- D. How does the passage we read give us a glimpse of God's eternal kingdom?
- E. When have you felt closest to God?

Day 14 – 2 Chronicles

- E. God is all-seeing and ever-present. Are there places in your heart where you need God's healing, cleansing, transformation, or wisdom?

Day 15 – Ezra

- A. Some 400 years after King Solomon built the first temple in Jerusalem,¹ the Babylonians destroyed it and took the Israelites captive (2 Chronicles 36:17–21). The Jewish captives returned to Jerusalem after 70 years of captivity in Babylon² and began building a second temple on the same site (Ezra 1:2–3). From our reading in Ezra 6:14–16, the Israelites celebrated the completion and dedication of the second temple. Why did this bring such joy?
- B. How might the Israelites have felt when the first temple was destroyed? How would a great downfall affect your faith in God?
- C. From our reading, who did God work through to rebuild the second temple and fulfill His Word?
- D. How has God built up your faith through good times and tough times?
- E. What is one way you can rededicate yourself to God with joy today?

Day 16 – Nehemiah

- A. Ezra and Nehemiah both wrote about reconstruction in Jerusalem. Ezra wrote about the rebuilding of the temple in Jerusalem (Ezra 3). Nehemiah wrote about rebuilding the broken walls that surround Jerusalem (Nehemiah 3). In the passage we read, Nehemiah prayed to God, before asking the Babylonian king’s permission to return to Jerusalem to rebuild its walls. What stood out to you about this prayer?
- B. How would you describe Nehemiah’s faith in God based on his prayer?
- C. What parts of Nehemiah’s prayer would you like to remember and incorporate into your prayers?

Day 17 – Esther

- A. The Persian king had chosen Esther, a Jewish young woman, as his queen (Esther 2:17). Esther’s cousin, Mordecai, discovered a plot to annihilate the Jewish people in the land (Esther 3:8–9). Mordecai asked Esther to plead for mercy from the king on behalf of their people (Esther 4:6–8). Esther resisted because anyone who approached the king without being summoned would be put to death (Esther 4:10–11). The passage we read from Esther 4:12–16, included Mordecai’s and Esther’s ensuing responses. Ultimately, the king spared the Jews, as Esther requested (Esther 7). From our reading, how did Mordecai’s words compel Esther to go before the king?
- B. How did Esther display great courage?
- C. What was Esther’s first action before approaching the king? What does this reveal about Esther?
- D. Have you ever fasted for something important? What was your experience?
- E. Have you ever stood up for Jesus or His followers when no one else could or would? How did that impact your faith?

1 Paul R. House and Eric Mitchell, Old Testament Survey, Second Edition (Nashville: B&H Academic, 2007), 170.

2 House and Mitchell, 344.

Day 18 – Job

- A. Job was blameless and followed God. Yet God allowed Satan to cause tragedies in Job’s life (Job 1:1–12). Although Job maintained his faith, he questioned God. In the end, God spoke to Job, but God never explained why He allowed the tragedies (Job 38–41). Once Job heard from God, his questioning ceased (Job 42:1–6). When Job’s animals, servants, and children died, how did he respond with great faith despite his tremendous sorrow?
- B. What prophetic words from our reading pointed ahead to Christ?
- C. When a believer dies, how does our faith in Jesus give us hope?
- D. How can God bring good out of our suffering?
- E. Have you gone through a painful loss where you questioned God? What did you learn or how did you grow?

The Whole Bible Devotional* • Small Group Study Guide

Week 5

Seven Daily Readings (completed individually before the group meeting):

1. Read Day 19 – Psalms
2. Read Day 20 – Proverbs
3. Read Day 21 – Ecclesiastes
4. Read Day 22 – Song of Solomon
5. Read Day 23 – Isaiah
6. Read Day 24 – Jeremiah
7. Catch up on your reading, and/or attend group meeting

Week 5 Reflection and Discussion Questions:

Day 19 – Psalms

- A. Our reading from Psalm 139 details God’s deep knowledge of us. God knows the real you. Does that bring you comfort, make you tremble, or both?
- B. What verses from Psalm 139 help you envision God watching over us like a father watches His children?
- C. God sees you—everywhere you go and everything you do. How should this strengthen our relationship with Him?
- D. How does Psalm 139 expand your view of God? How does it affect your view of yourself?
- E. Psalm 139 closes with a prayer inviting God to search, test, know, and see our innermost being and lead us in His way. Have you ever prayed that kind of prayer? Would you pause and pray that right now from the depths of your heart?

Day 20 – Proverbs

- A. Proverbs 3:5–7 instructs us to trust the Lord with all our hearts. In what areas of your life would you like to trust the Lord more? How is our trust in the Lord strengthened?
- B. When faced with an obstacle, have you ever trusted and submitted to God instead of following your own wisdom? What was the outcome? How did that impact your relationship with God?
- C. Proverbs 30:4–6 proclaims God’s glory, power, and perfection. What verses resonate with you, surprise you, or give you a sense of awe? How does this passage highlight Jesus?
- D. According to this passage, how should we esteem God’s Word, the Bible?
- E. How is this different from the culture and world’s viewpoint of God’s Word? What does this mean for us as believers?

Day 21 – Ecclesiastes

- A. From our reading in Ecclesiastes, fearing God is recorded as a positive quality. In the Bible the fear of the Lord can sometimes denote a sense of terror. In other passages, the fear of the Lord describes awe, reverence, and worship. Moses fears God (in terror) after he commits murder because he recognizes his great sin (Exod. 2:14). However, in Deuteronomy 10:12–13, fearing the Lord is listed with: walking in God’s ways, loving, and obeying Him. In this second case, the fear of the Lord shows reverence as a proper response toward God.³ For He alone is God. How is the fear of the Lord different from earthly fears or fear of people?
- B. We know God is good and loves us. He has proven His love through Christ’s sacrifice on the cross. Why does God instruct us to fear Him?
- C. How does the fear of the Lord bring about our eternal good?
- D. Have you ever thought about what happens after we die? What does the Bible teach about life after death (Hebrews 9:27–28), (2 Corinthians 5:10), (2 Timothy 4:8), (Revelation 21:4)? How is this different from what the world thinks?
- E. God sent Jesus, so we can receive Him as Savior before we meet Him as Judge (Matthew 10:28). As believers in Jesus, our sins are paid in full (Ephesians 2:8–10). How does this knowledge bring comfort, peace, and hope when we imagine standing before the Lord?

Day 22 – Song of Solomon

- A. The Song of Solomon is a love poem written in dialogue form between Solomon and his wife, the Shulamite woman. The book portrays God’s design for emotional, verbal, and physical love between a husband and wife in marriage. Some Bible scholars also interpret this book as an allegory of Christ’s love for His church.⁴ From our reading in Song of Solomon 8:6, how is the love between a husband and wife described?
- B. Who is the source of love (1 John 4:7–8)?
- C. How is love different from lust?
- D. In Ephesians 5:25 we read, “Husbands, love your wives, as Christ loved the church and gave himself up for her.” How does Christ’s love for the church set an example for marital love?
- E. Do you know any married couples who display Christlike enduring love for each other? What can you learn from them?

³ William D. Mounce, et al., Mounce’s Complete Expository Dictionary of Old & New Testament Words (Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 2006), 244.

⁴ Matthew Henry, New Matthew Henry Commentary, ed. Martin Manser (Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 2010), 939.

Day 23 – Isaiah

- A. In our reading from Isaiah 53:5–6, how does the Scripture foretell the Messiah as the solution for humanity’s sin?
- B. Which phrases do you find most moving?
- C. How does this passage help you visualize Jesus on the cross?
- D. Though we are the ones who have turned away, the Lord lays our iniquity on Jesus. How does this impact your love and gratitude for Jesus?
- E. As the Triune God—Father, Son, and Holy Spirit—why did God absorb into Himself the penalty for our sin?

Day 24 – Jeremiah

- A. Jeremiah was a prophet during distressing times, as the Israelite kingdom collapses. Jeremiah warned the people of God’s coming judgment for their rebellion against Him (Jeremiah 16:10–13). Eventually, Babylon defeated the Israelites, destroyed their land, and took them captive (2 Kings 25). In our reading from Jeremiah 29:11–13, we see that even amid the ruins, God promises restoration. How do these verses give you hope in depressing situations?
- B. Because God is eternal, He is outside of time. He knows the end from the beginning (Isaiah 46:9–10). How does that enlarge your view of God?
- C. How does Jesus give us hope and a future?
- D. What are God’s best plans for us?
- E. Have you ever felt depressed and hopeless? How can we see our future differently through the lens of Scripture?

Week 6

Seven Daily Readings (completed individually before the group meeting):

2. Read Day 26 – Ezekiel
3. Read Day 27 – Daniel
4. Read Day 28 – Hosea
5. Read Day 29 – Joel
6. Read Day 30 – Amos
7. Catch up on your reading, and/or attend group meeting

Week 6 Reflection and Discussion Questions:

Day 25 – Lamentations

- A. Lamentations is a collection of mournful poems about the destruction of Jerusalem by the Babylonians. Though filled with despair, the writer remembered God’s steadfast love and faithfulness, as recorded in our reading from Lamentations 3:19–24. Imagine witnessing the destruction of your city and your people taken captive. How could the writer still have hope?
- B. Have you or has someone you know ever witnessed war or great destruction? How did that impact you?
- C. How can we recall God’s goodness when everything around us is destroyed?
- D. Based on our text from Lamentations 3, what new blessings can we receive from God each morning?
- E. How can we see the Lord as our portion?

Day 26 – Ezekiel

- A. Ezekiel, a priest and prophet, saw visions of God’s plans for judgment and restoration for the people of that time and far into the future (Ezekiel 37). Our reading in Ezekiel 36:26–28 records God’s plans for regenerating people’s hearts. These promises apply to us as believers in Jesus, our Messiah. How does this passage describe the Holy Spirit’s work in our lives?
- B. As a Christian, how have you noticed your heart being transformed by the indwelling Spirit?
- C. What experiences give you a hardened heart?
- D. How has God healed and restored your heart? What can we do to seek God for more inner healing?

E. Based on our reading from Ezekiel, what does God's Spirit move us to do? What blessings result from this?

Day 27 – Daniel

A. After Babylon defeated Jerusalem, the king took Daniel and 3 other Hebrew young men into training in his royal courts (Daniel 1:1–6). God blessed Daniel with special wisdom and visions (Daniel 1:17). From our reading of Daniel 2, the king demanded that someone tell his dream and interpret it. The Lord revealed the king's dream to Daniel in a vision and Daniel praised God for this gift. Have you ever had a dream you thought was from God?

B. What was the outcome?

C. From our reading of Daniel 6, we find Daniel thrown into the lions' den because he prayed to God and not to the king. What happened to Daniel?

D. How did Daniel respond to the king?

E. Has God ever miraculously spared your life from a great danger or accident? How did you know God intervened?

Day 28 – Hosea

A. Hosea was a prophet who married a prostitute. Although Hosea was faithful, his unfaithful wife represented the unfaithfulness of the Israelites toward God (Hosea 1:1–2). In our readings from Hosea 2, we see God's plans for restoration. How did God restore sinful mankind to Himself?

B. In John 10:9 (NKJV), Jesus refers to Himself as the door. How is Jesus our door of hope?

C. As Christians, we are sons and daughters of God and counted among His people. How does that affect your daily living and your view of heaven?

D. In our reading from Hosea 6, how does this foreshadow Christ?

E. How can we press on to acknowledge the Lord?

Day 29 – Joel

A. In our reading from Joel 2:28–32, how did Joel prophesy about Christ?

- A. The three Gospels—Matthew, Mark, and Luke—chronicle Jesus’ life, death, and resurrection. Though each book offers a unique presentation of the gospel, they are called synoptic gospels, meaning “seeing together”⁸ because of the similarities in their accounts. John’s gospel focuses more on Jesus as God—part of the Triune God—Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Our reading from John 1:1–3 describes Jesus’ divine nature. How is this different from the descriptions of Jesus found in Matthew, Mark, and Luke?

In contrast, the fruit of the Spirit is not given but grown. The fruit of the Spirit consists of character traits the Holy Spirit cultivates in a Christian’s heart. Galatians 5:22 (ESV) records those qualities: “But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness and self-control.” How do these qualities help us grow to reflect Jesus?
- D. How have you seen the Holy Spirit at work in your life or someone else’s life?

Additional Bible Study Activities

Below are some additional Bible Study activities for those who desire more in-depth study opportunities.

1. Research Various Bible Timelines

Below are two online free printable resources.

Simple Bible Timeline from Sunday School Zone (for families, kids, or adults):

Read carefully through the Bible timeline. Take note of the major events and where they are recorded in the books of the Bible. What did you learn or remember? Which timespan was the longest or shortest? What surprised you?

How can a Bible timeline enhance your understanding or broaden your perspective when reading the Bible?

Before your personal Bible reading time, review a Bible timeline to understand each book within the wider context of God's redemption story.

2. Research and write down a grouping system for the books of the Bible

Research various groupings or categories of Bible books. Choose one that is most meaningful to you. Write down or print out a list of the books of the Bible and sort them according to the category.

Here are some ideas:

- Timespan (from creation to Abraham, from Abraham to Moses, from Moses to the promised land, etc.)
- Types of literature or genres (Old Testament: Pentateuch or Torah/Law, Historical Books, Poetic or Wisdom Books, Prophetic Books; New Testament: Gospels, Acts of the Apostles, Letters/Epistles, Revelation/Prophetic)
- Major Events (Genesis, for example—Creation, Fall, Flood, Abraham, Israel, Joseph)

3. Connect each book of the Bible with Jesus

List each book of the Bible. Record a short note of how that book points to Jesus. For example:

Genesis: Adam and Eve rebelled against God; God foretold the coming of Christ, the One who would crush the head of Satan.

Exodus: The Passover lamb's blood covered the doorposts so the people were spared from death; likewise, Jesus' blood covers our hearts and we are spared from eternal separation from God.

4. Study maps that illustrate Bible times

Research maps of various Bible times. These are included in some Bibles. Look through the headings of given books of the Bible and trace the account on the Bible map of that time.
